KNOBBIE BEATEN IN ROSLYN HANDICAP BY COPPER DEMON

KNOBBIE DEFEATED IN TWO HORSE RACE BY COPPER DEMON

Winner Finishes Two Lengths in Front of 1 to 4 Favorite in Handicap.

STEEPLECHASE TO SURE. Bottled Up Good Thing Put Over in Third When Shaffer Roms Home.

By Vincent Treanor.
AQUEDUCT RACE TRACK, Sept. 28.—Knobbie was a 1 to 4 shot over Copper Demon in this two-horse Roslyn Handicap, the feature this afternoon, and was beaten in handy fashion by two lengths. Knobbie beat Copper Demon away from the post three lengths, led all the way, only to go to pieces in the final sixteenth. Jockey Ted Rice rode a powerful race on the winner through the stretch and in the final strides.

Surf, second choice in the betting, won the steeplechase, after making most of the pace. He was much the best, standing off challenges from the favorite, Mohican, and Franc Tireur during the last circuit of the field. At the end he was going along smoothly half a dozen lengths in front of Mohican. Franc Tireur was an easy third.

A real bottled up good thing was put over in the third, a six furlong event for two-year-olds, when Shaffer, the outsider in the betting won all the way. He outran Big Heart and Chestbrook in the first sixteenth and was never even threatened thereafter. There were but three starters. In the last sixteenth Penman was pulling Shaffer up. This colt never has been third in any of his races. Chestbrook ran second with little or no contention from the cold favorite Big Heart.

Thirteen went to post in the two-year-old event in the first. The winner turned up in Dolly Varden, ridden by Penman. She and Red Tom were in the forward flight all the way out at the end Dolly was well clear of the field. Red Tom, who has the distinction of once being favorite over Morvich, was a good second in front of the well-played Pastoral. Forest Queen turned into the stretch wide and made a belated bid.

YOUNG GOLF STAR BEATS HUTCHISON 8 UP AND 7 TO GO

Champion Decisively Defeated by Sarazen in "Pro" Match on Inwood Course.

By William Abbott.
INWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, Sept. 28.—Gene Sarazen, twenty year old Pennsylvania star, defeated Jack Hutchison, defending title holder, by the overwhelming margin of 8 up and 7 to go in this second round of the professional golfers association championship to-day on the Inwood Course. Sarazen led the Chicago player by eight holes in the first round when he registered a brilliant 69.

The youngster refused to weaken in the afternoon and Hutchison, who also holds the British trophy, never had a chance. Jack sadly said it was the most decisive defeat he ever got in a big tournament.

Emmet French, who captained the England golf team that invaded England last summer, defeated James Clarke, Roslyn, 9 up and 7 to go. Fred McLeod, Washington, defeated Jack Gordon, Buffalo, 4 up to 2 to go. George McLean, New York, defeated James West, Rockaway, 5 up and 7 to go.

Never had Hutchison been so roughly handled. Three years ago Sarazen caddied at Apawamis. To-day he played more the part of a champion, while his famous opponent gave an effective demonstration of a duffer at his worst. Sarazen's medal score was 69 for the first 18 holes, the second time in two days the youngster came within a stroke of the course record. This card included seven birdies. Sarazen made only two mistakes, when he took extra putts on the second and seventh holes. The Pennsylvania "pro" outdrew Hutchison from 25 to 50 yards and was much straighter. His short game and putting was vastly superior to

HUGHES'S WALL STREET DEALS WITH RYAN MOUNTED TO $105,000 IN ONE YEAR

Ex-Inspector Takes Stand at Meyer Committee in Effort to Clear Himself.
SAYS AUDITORE LIED.
Admits Buying Home in Suffern From Estate of Mrs. Thomas F. Ryan.

Former Police Inspector Edward P. Hughes, at his own request, was recalled to the witness stand before the Meyer committee to-day. He angrily denied that he had ever told James Auditory, the millionaire stevedore, that Police Commissioner Enright was a "50-50 partner" in the Edward P. Hughes Detective Service.

Hughes was asked about his financial affairs and his prosperity since he retired from the Police Department. He was questioned as to his financial relations with Allan A. Ryan, with whose brokerage house he did business running into tens of thousands of dollars.

The accounts showed that prior to Feb. 28, 1918, when he was retired from the Police Department, his aggregate dealings in Wall Street in account with Allan A. Ryan, the Special Deputy Commissioner who made $12,000 "in the market" for Commissioner Enright, amounted to the modest sum of $2,325.14. During 1918 Hughes's Wall Street dealings increased to $7,000 and in 1919 they jumped to $105,000.

"Did you purchase a house from Mr. Ryan?" asked Mr. Brown.

"No sir," said Mr. Hughes.

"From whom did you purchase your Suffern house?"

"From the executors of the estate of Mrs. Thomas F. Ryan,"

"Has Mr. Enright visited you at Suffern?" asked Mr. Brown.

"Yes, two or three times in the last three years," said the ex-inspector.

"The court room was started. No one had ever seen the witness before, no one but the members of District Attorney Matthew Brady's staff. No one had ever heard of her.

"It was a woman's voice," said Assistant District Attorney Golden, calm and unmoved. "Go on, did you hear another voice?"

"Yes, a man's."

"What did the man say?"

"The man, he said, 'Shut up.'"

"You went to the door and listened and heard everything?"

"Yes."

"Did you hear anything else?"

"I heard talking and laughter, music, dancing, doors slamming, things like that. But it was in the other rooms 1220 and 1221."

"Why did you listen in the corridor?" Dominguez asked.

"When I heard the scream, I ran and listened," she answered.

The state announced it was done. The two other witnesses for the prosecution were Miss Zey Prevon and Miss Alice Blake, both members of the party that resulted in the death of Miss Rappe. Miss Prevon testified that Miss Rappe voluntarily accompanied Arbuttle into a room adjoining that where the rest of the party was gathered and that she was fully dressed when found lying on the bed. Miss Blake's testimony was similar, except that she testified that Miss Rappe was

BIG PARIS STORE DESTROYED BY FIRE
Au Printemps Was One of Largest in City—Loss Put at $5,000,000 Francs.

PARIS, Sept. 28.—Au Printemps, newest and one of the largest of department stores in the heart of Paris, was destroyed by fire to-day. The damage was estimated at $5,000,000 francs.

Spectators, who, from adjoining roofs, watched the firemen at work, were horrified to observe the figures of many women lying on the second floor of the Printemps store, with flames licking about them. Rescuers dashed in only to discover that the supposed victims were half-melted wax dummies used to display clothing.

INSPECTOR DYING, 3 OTHERS HURT IN FIREWORKS BLAST

Butler's Arm Torn Off by "Aerial Bomb" Seized at Coney Celebration.

BOY AMONG INJURED.
Explosion Occurs as Officers Start to Destroy Confiscated Stock.

An explosion of fireworks at the foot of Bay Eighth Street, Brooklyn, this afternoon tore off the left arm of Inspector James Butler of the Fire Department Bureau of Combustibles, probably destroyed both his eyes and injured his body so badly from the waist up that he is expected to die.

Three others were injured. Inspector William Heaney, also of the Bureau of Combustibles, was badly cut about the face and there are fears for his eyes; Patrolman James McLaughlin of the Bath Beach Station was lacerated about the face and body, and a boy, Salvatore Serri of No. 6916 18th Avenue, was painfully burned and cut. The boy was taken to his home. All the others are at the Coney Island Hospital.

The fireworks were part of a lot purchased for an Italian celebration which was held Saturday night at Coney Island Creek. Five hundred pieces of all sorts were sent there and set up in the sand to be ready for touching off when darkness came. But no permit had been issued, and when the police learned of the purchase they confiscated the whole lot, carted them to the Bath Beach Station in a patrol wagon, and put them in water.

To-day it was planned to destroy them. Some of them were thrown into the bay at the foot of Bay 8th Street, and a few pieces floated back. The inspectors and the policemen were trying to break these up when a big contrivance called an "aerial bomb," 18 inches long and 15 inches in circumference, exploded at their feet.

KU KLUX KLAN HEAD ASKS INVESTIGATION

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 28.—Letters have been sent to President Harding and Attorney General Daugherty by William Joseph Simmons, head of the Ku Klux Klan, requesting an immediate and thorough investigation by the Government into the activities of the organization, according to a statement issued at Klan headquarters here to-day.

Both letters were signed by Mr. Simmons, it was stated, but were given out by other officials of the Klan.

In his letter to the President, Mr. Simmons declared the Klan would welcome a sweeping investigation by the Government into all its activities throughout the country, while in the letter to the Attorney General he said all records, books and files of the "Invisible Empire" would be at the Government's disposal.

AFTER 63 DAYS, MAN AND HIS CHILD ARE FOUND AT SEA

Ex-Soldier and Daughter Had Been on Mysterious Cruise in Open Boat.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Five miles off Norfolk, Va., in an open rowboat, in which they had been cruising the waters of the bay and the Potomac River for sixty-three days, William A. Spencer, ex-soldier, and his ten-year-old daughter, Cora Eleanor, were found Saturday and brought to that port after a Nation-wide search of weeks following their mysterious disappearance from this city. The news was not made known until to-day.

A frantic wife, who waited with four other children for their return, joined Spencer at Norfolk, and they are returning to-day to their home in Baltimore. Spencer and his daughter dropped out of sight completely when he came to Washington late in July to take her home after a visit here. Their story of the mysterious two months' cruise in the rowboat along the river and bay revealed that they usually traveled by night and suffered from scant food and inadequate clothing. Spencer was decorated for distinguished service during the war.

POLICEMAN SHOT TO DEATH IN RIVERSIDE DRIVE BATTLE MAY HAVE WOUNDED SLAYER

Man With Bullet in Knee Treated in Hospital After Reuschle, Foe of Auto Bandits, Is Found Murdered.

Gas Syringe Near Scene of Crime and Shattered Headlight Only Clues to Attack Made at Lonely Spot.

Inspector Coughlin, in charge of the investigation into the assassination of Patrolman Joseph A. Reuschle of the West 177th Street Station in Riverside Drive, near 177th Street, shortly after midnight, to-day instructed detectives to round up four of five men who were arrested by Reuschle on Sept. 4 and are awaiting trial, which has been set for Oct. 7 in the Court of General Sessions. The men sought are Henry Varsinkel, No. 2969 West 23d Street, Coney Island; Abraham Meekler, No. 226 East 18th Street; Edward Lewis, No. 32 Monroe Street, and Joseph Curry, No. 142 Norfolk Street. The fifth man, Samuel Bosch of No. 39 Avenue A, did not furnish bail and is in jail.

Reuschle arrested the men in an automobile at 177th Street and Riverside Drive. In the car were found four loaded revolvers, four black cloth masks, a blackjack and a box of .38 calibre cartridges.

Witnesses have been found who heard one of the men threaten Reuschle after the party had been held in Washington Heights Police Court on a charge of violation of the Sullivan law. "You will have a chance to use that gun of yours before long," the prisoner is alleged to have said to Reuschle.

Inspector Coughlin has been informed that a man unknown to Reuschle approached him two or three days ago and asked him "to go light" in the prosecution of the five Reuschle, according to the inspector's information, replied to the suggestion by knocking the man down.

"I am not making any charges against these men," said Inspector Coughlin. "I simply want to talk to them about where they were and what they were doing last night."

At the scene of the crime detectives found to-day two empty shells that had been fired from a .38 calibre automatic pistol, a metal syringe wound with adhesive tape and carrying an odor suggestive of chlorine gas and a shattered automobile headlight.

Word also came to the police from a Brooklyn garage that a motor car had come in during the early morning with a shattered headlight for which repairs were asked.

Inspection of the scene of the shooting has led to the theory that Reuschle may have been ambushed and shot from the back as he walked southward on Riverside Drive. The

TEACHERS' SKIRTS MUST BE LONGER AND THEY PROTEST

Also Silks and Satins Are Barred Lest They Give Bad Example.

LYNDHURST, N. J., Sept. 28.—Ordered by the Board of Education to lengthen their dresses, Lyndhurst school teachers are very indignant to-day.

Some of the teachers have unwittingly complied with the order. Those who have not done so are wondering how long their skirts should be—whether ankle-length or if they should hang five inches above the ankle, according to a late ruling in Zion City.

The teachers declare that the members of the Board of Education must have spent their vacations somewhere in the backwoods where the styles in vogue at the time of the Philadelphia Centennial are still in vogue.

"It's a cinch their vacations were not spent at any of the bathing beaches," said one teacher, "where one-piece bathing suits were the rage. No doubt after a rest in the tall timbers somewhere they professed to be shocked at us wearing skirts an inch or two below the knee."

Supervising Principal Battin notified the school teachers of the action of the board. He also informed them that the board had decreed that henceforth silks and satins are taboo for the teachers.

The reason silks and satins were barred, it was explained, was because most of the pupils in Lyndhurst are in moderate circumstances, and if teachers wear such expensive materials the pupils may feel called upon to do so also.

MAN TREATED AT HOSPITAL FOR A BULLET WOUND

Response to the police request that word be given at once by any hospital at which treatment for a gunshot wound had been administered after the shooting, brought news that a man had gone to a Brooklyn hospital shortly after 3 o'clock this morning with a bullet wound in his knee. He was brought to the institution in an automobile and left after his wound had been dressed.

Word also came to the police from a Brooklyn garage that a motor car had come in during the early morning with a shattered headlight for which repairs were asked.

Inspection of the scene of the shooting has led to the theory that Reuschle may have been ambushed and shot from the back as he walked southward on Riverside Drive. The
